

DR. JOSE F. MENDIOLA

Dr. Jose F. Mendiola, M.D. is a medical doctor by profession and has bred Dobermans, Boxers, German Shepherds, and Miniature Pinschers, with Dobermans and Minpins as his favorites.

Starting with the Philippine Kennel Club, (now Philippine Canine Club Incorporated—PCCI), he became its president for a few years and ended his tenure when he returned to United States. Upon his return to the Philippines, as part of his retirement, dog show interest peaked, with multiple judging assignments in Australia, New Zealand, Southeast Asia, Northern Asia, India, South Africa, and several FCI's Dog Shows especially in Japan. To keep himself abreast of new breeds and developments in the canine world, he frequently watches Specialty Dog Shows, including the Westminster Show and other Specialty Shows in New York City and reviews videos of latest world dog shows.

Dog shows fosters camaraderie amongst people regardless of color or creed, presenting opportunities to improve the breeds, needless to say, fosters tourism.

The arts, music, and time measuring mechanisms like watches, are other points of interest.
